

Clowning around

The clown Boswick Turnstyle entertains children at the eighth annual Fourth of July parade sponsored by the New Mission Terrace Improvement Association. A parade that originally started as a group of children marching around the neighborhood, the parade now goes from Capistrano Street to Balboa Park and features a police car, fire engine, entertainment and food provided by the Roxie Food Market. The improvement association has been serving the neighborhood for the past 22 years.
